ALL TEN-YEAR MEN'S HOCKEY SQUAD SELECTED

Thirteen players have been selected to the Concordia University All Ten-Year Men's Hockey Team, composing two goaltenders, four defencemen and seven forwards. To commemorate the varsity sports program's 10th anniversary, which took place during the 1984-85 season, media and alumni have been participating in the selection process of the respective teams of the decade since last summer.

Concordia hockey teams won league championships in each of the program's first nine years of existence, following the merger of Loyola College and Sir George Williams University. In 11 years, head coach Paul Arsenault has seen the club finish out of the playoff race only once.

Goaltenders Jim Corsi (1975-76) and Stephane Heon (1981-82 to 1984-85) were vital cogs in the Stinger machine. Corsi was outstanding in his lone Concordia campaign recording six shutouts and a 1.16 goals against average. He was an All-Canadian and Quebec University Athletic Association all-star and later went on to play for the Quebec Nordiques and Edmonton Oilers. He is currently a member of the Italian National Team. Heon, meanwhile, was also a standout between the pipes who would always come up with the big save. He retired prior to the 1984-85 season to devote all of his time to school in that his final academic year. However, by mid-season, he was back in goals.

On defence the choices were Donnie Morris (1975-76), Michel Blais (1975-76 to 1979-80), David Boyd (1975-76 to 1979-80) and Mike Walker (1977-78 to 1980-81). Morris is the older brother of Frankie Morris, a hardnosed forward who has racked up 572 penalty minutes for the Stingers the past four seasons. Walker followed up his Concordia career by turning pro with a team in Scotland.

Up front, the players selected were: Glen Tomalty (1975-76 to 1979-80), Randy Mohns (1975-76 to 1977-78), Mark Shewchuk (1975-76), Doug Feasby (1978-79 to 1980-81), John Sliskovic (1979-80 to 1982-83), Gilles Hebert (1979-80 to 1983-84) and Mark Kosturik, who concluded his four year career this past season by becoming the club's all-time leading scorer with 257 points. He beat the previous mark of 252 set by Hebert in his final season. Prior to that Mohns was the record holder with a total of 251. Feasby, meanwhile, is best remembered for a sensational rookie season in which he set team records which still stand for most assists (68) and points (114). Sliskovic combined solid play with impeccable scholastic achievements, obtaining the highest marks in the commerce faculty in his graduating year.
